The new ecobee Smart Thermostat Premium

New ecobee Smart Thermostat Premium

In the world of smart thermostats, ecobee continues to lead the market with their new Smart Thermostat Premium, model EB-STATE6P-01. This thermostat features a massive 540x540 touchscreen and integral indoor air quality monitor. Your homeowners can be alerted when air quality is poor and provided with tips on how to improve it. The Alexa and Siri feature has been expanded to now include Spotify and Bluetooth streaming options as well.

For your homeowners who are focused on energy savings, the ecobee eco+ system offers unparalleled comfort and energy savings. The system can:

- Detect fluctuations in indoor humidity to ensure the home always feels like the setpoint temperature.
- Monitor the thermostat schedule and how it compares to actual routines, making recommendations for optimal energy savings.
- Automatically adjusting the settings for energy savings when the home is unoccupied and quickly restoring comfort settings when it is not.
- Intelligently precooling or preheating

the home at times of day when electricity is less expensive while reducing heating or cooling when electricity is costlier. If a homeowner's rate varies depending on time of day, the system can shift energy consumption to when electricity is more affordable.

While ecobee thermostats have a 3 year homeowner warranty, the warranty is extended to 5 years when contractors purchase the thermostat from Sigler Wholesale Distributors

The EB-STATE6P-01 is now available and the price is $210.00 for Sigler Club members. A few of the now obsolete EB-STATE5P-01 controls are still available and the price has been reduced to $199 while supplies last. The ecobee 3 lite with fewer features and no room sensor is still available, model EB-STATE3LTP-02. The price has been reduced to $132 for Sigler Club members.

There are no changes to the "Powered by Carrier" models at this time.

Technical Tips

Q: How do I get technical support for residential equipment??

Sigler Norcal residential division has staff at various locations throughout the Bay Area. In the past, you could either call any of the branch phone numbers and follow the prompts that led to residential support, or you could call the 866 line we had set up.

We've recently made a change to the structure that should simplify the process. Moving forward you can call or text 415.330.6666.

If you call, you'll be asked to leave a message with as much detail as possible about the situation at hand so support personnel will be prepared when they return the call. Please don't start calling others after you leave a message, as many times tech support returns a call only to get voicemail, and the phone-tag begins. This voicemail is being checked by the Bay Area technical support staff as well as those located in other regions of the company. If you need to talk to somebody quick, this is the best way to get us on the phone.

The text option works well as you can attach a picture of the unit nameplate with a short description of the issue. If all you are looking for is literature, text is the way to go – send a text with model and serial number and we'll zing you back a PDF...no phone-tag!
